

37TH ANNUAL DENVER FALL SHOW AND SALE The Denver Museum of Miniatures, Dolls & Toys

September 6 - 10, 2017

Mini Mansion Mystery will weave a tale of fantasy, mystery (not murder) and mischievousness not to be believed. The fun filled weekend with lots of great gifts and workshops plus camaraderie extraordinaire, for which the Denver show is famous, will include a special ALL DAY WORKSHOP. The box room will provide not only a rewarding piece at the end of a day well spent, but a back drop for many of the wonderful gifts you will receive over the weekend, or house your own idea of an elegant room setting. The special as-always Sales Room will offer treats beyond expectations. Enter the mysteries of this Mansion's secrets as you explore its fantasies and reveal its hidden surprises. Read through this registration form for descriptions of events, workshops and gifts and see them in color on the website. Another "Evening with the Experts," sharing skills and ideas, is on Thursday and is FREE to all. Many choices are limited in size so sign up early and don't miss out!

A special feature this year is the Franklin Mint "Rose Cottage", which has been donated to the museum by Joan Eischen's estate. This gem is complete with original furniture offered with this Cottage, in addition to many artisan treasures. The entire house and its contents will be on display in the Exhibit Room and will be in the Oral Action on Saturday night, when it will be handed over to the lucky high bidder!

The Saturday night buffet dinner will solve the mystery! We will all find out whodunit. As usual, each table will be graced with an appropriate theme oriented centerpiece, handmade by some of Colorado's talented miniature artisans. Ten lucky people will take home a centerpiece and everyone attending will automatically be entered into the centerpiece drawing. The doors will open at 5:30 pm to begin bidding at the silent auction, which will offer temptations for all. After dinner the special auction, with our favorite and always fun auctioneer, Amy Fitch, will commence and will include the bidding on the spectacular "Rose Cottage." Everyone will go home with a special surprise gift.

Sunday Brunch - "Women of Mystery"

$40 Museum Member - $45 Non Museum Member

9:00 a.m. - 10:30 a.m.

Almost since the beginning, female authors have been at the forefront of the genre. From Baroness Orczy, through Golden Age authors such as Dorothy L. Sayers, Agatha Christie, and Ngaio March, to the present day, women have been creating memorable, even unforgettable, characters: Lady Molly of Scotland Yard, Miss Marple, Harriet Vane & Lord Peter Wimsey, and Hercule Poirot just to name a few. Join us for a delicious brunch, mini auction and fabulous mini favors as we celebrate these talented writers.

What is the Incentive Gift & How do I earn Tickets?

This charming 1" scale studio with a hidden attic was made and donated by Roberta Krauss. Ludwig van Beethoven composed music on a grand piano in such a setting. After Beethoven's death love letters addressed to "My Immortal Beloved" were discovered and the lady remains a mystery to this day. And to top it off is a music box to play Für Elise. Included is a folding book with the love letters and details about his life. You will receive a ticket each time you attend or participate in an event or workshop and for staying in the event hotel. The drawing is Sunday at 3:45pm. You need not be present to win.

~ Inspirational Miniaturist ~ 2017 - Dona Mandell ~

Dona has lived an interesting life; she was born and raised in the Chicago area, ventured into retail, at age 15 getting jobs at Marshall Fields and other department stores, worked for an attorney AND a private detective (all without the benefit of a work permit!). She met her future husband, Michael, at the University of Chicago, where they married and moved to Denver. She has been a very successful Realtor for the past 45 years, and as such, she is on the site committee, helping to find a new Museum location.

At age 6 Dona received her first dollhouse, a Rich Toys, pressed board, 6 room house with furniture AND a doorbell, which was a bicycle bell hidden behind the stairwell. She was taken to see the Colleen Moore dollhouse at the Museum of Science and Industry, and “fashioned” hers to be a similar but smaller version, constantly decorating and adding things. At age 12 when asked if she wasn’t too old to be playing with dollhouses, she indignantly replied, “NO, I’M NOT!!!” After moving away she was dismayed to find her mother had gotten rid of the dollhouse, but fortunately, her mother hadn’t found the furniture Dona had stashed away. You can see Dona’s Dollhouse in the Exhibit Room, but you will have to ask her how she got it here.

Dona says, “A very dark period in my life happened with the unexpected death of my daughter, Leah. With the help and love of countless miniature friends, I persevered. Many of these friends have been close friends for over 40 years and for that I feel truly blessed.”

She never lost her interest in all things small. When she learned of a miniature show being held in a Mall she quickly attended, got the information, paid her dues and joined The Mile High Miniature Club on the spot. Little did she know that for the next 37 years she would be consumed with fund-raising, advertising, printing flyers, organizing Sunday Brunches, arranging Exhibits (both at the Museum and the Fall Shows), making favors, donating raffle items, serving and/or chairing a committee for every Fall Show and chairing the whole Show THREE times! Dona is very creative with hands and heart, working with wood, fabric, clay, paper and always taking on new and different challenges.

It was a shock to return to Chicago and see the Colleen Moore dollhouse with adult eyes and she found it hard to believe that she ever thought her dollhouse was similar in any way whatsoever, however, she believes “the miniature world” IS the “real” world and we just have to work around this day-to-day imaginary one!”

Treasured Past... Future Treasures

A CAPITAL CAMPAIGN FOR OUR NEW HOME.

In 2016, DMMDT embarked on a capital campaign to raise funds for a new home. We are envisioning this as a "one and done" campaign that will ensure a permanent home for the Museum. Your donation will help make this happen.

To find out more, or make a donation, please talk to a board member, stop by the Museum table at the Fall Show, or visit www.coloradogives.org/DMMDTNewBuilding
